Licensed psychologists are required to provide certain information about their qualifications and services to be made available online to the public. The majority of this information is submitted by the individual psychologists and is not verified by the Psychology Board.

To access this information, please go to texas.gov . You may search by city, last name, zip code, etc.